His Legislative Vestments Hang On the Hook for Time Being.

LIQUOR LOOSENESS SHOCKING

Councilman Who Operates Two Saloons Becomes Alarmed at Others' Iniquities.

Whether or not at last night's meeting of the city council the much ado made over the proposed liquor ordinance could be termed action, this much is certain, three and a half hours were consumed in pyrotechnic oratory which ended in nothing being done other than the wasting of a choice lot of conversation.

The ordinance in question had threatened to bob up for several weeks, in spite of the efforts of the councilmanic body to keep it securely nailed in committee until after the legislature convenes, under the declaration that it was a matter the legislature should take the initiative in. However, the committee met on Saturday and started the ball rolling by endorsing a resolution to reach an agreement between themselves.

Officers of the Elks, the Alta club and the Commercial club were present at last night's meeting and for a time there seemed grave danger of their being placed under arrest at the instance of Councilman Mulvey, who has become greatly incensed at what he terms flagrant violations of the Sunday closing law on the part of the clubs. Mulvey had written a communication to the council to the effect that the city attorney should be instructed to take action against the clubs and this communication was backed up by a resolution presented by the fraternal councilman. It was here the fireworks started.

from the stamptide of councilmen who tried to gain the floor at the same time. Rules went for naught, and after two hours of debate, during which time the resolution was amended until Mulvey himself would not have recognized it, from out the blue smoke came a motion that Councilman Mulvey's resolution go over for a week. This motion was adopted.

In the communication following, Mulvey has revealed the identity of the "tarrant" violators, taking the role himself of a common taxpayer:

To the members of the Salt Lake City council of the city of Salt Lake, county of Salt Lake, and state of Utah:

You are hereby notified that the Alta club, a corporation of Utah, the Commercial club, a corporation of Utah, and the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, a corporation of Utah, Fraternal Order of Eagles, a corporation of Utah, and the Prater Order of Moose, a corporation of Utah, are each severally violating the laws of the State of Utah, and particularly title 33 of the Compiled Laws of Utah 1907, by selling, bartering, dealing out, or otherwise disposing of spirituous, vinous, malt and other intoxicating liquors without first obtaining a license therefor from the city council of the city of Salt Lake, county of Salt Lake, and state of Utah, the city in which said corporations and each of them are now doing business, a license therefor, as provided in said title 33, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, and other acts relating thereto.

Demand is hereby made by the undersigned, a taxpayer of the city of Salt Lake, county of Salt Lake, and state of Utah, that you, under and by virtue of the authority vested in you as the members of the Salt Lake City council, of said city of Salt Lake, forthwith take such steps as may be necessary to prevent the sale, barter, dealing out or otherwise disposing of by said corporations, and each or any of them, of any spirituous, vinous, malt or other intoxicating liquor in the city of Salt Lake, county of Salt Lake, and state of Utah, and to forthwith cause the arrest and prosecution of the officers, agents and employees of said corporations, and each of them, for the violation of title 33 of the Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907.

Dated at Salt Lake City, Utah, this 12th day of December, A. D. 1910.

M. E. MULVEY.

This letter was read at the opening of the session and went over pending action on other propositions until Mulvey introduced a resolution which he desired to be considered with the letter. Following adverse action on the resolution of the city attorney, the city attorney should be instructed to take action against the clubs and this communication was backed up by a resolution presented by the fraternal councilman. It was here the fireworks started.

STORIES OF SUCCESS THOMAS A. EDISON

It has been said of Thomas A. Edison that before he was fifteen he had read all the important books in the Detroit Library. Nothing could keep a boy like that from getting an education. At twelve he was a newsboy on the Grand Trunk road, and with some of the money earned and saved he began experimenting with chemistry, setting up a laboratory in an empty corner of the baggage car.

Unfailing and unconquerable, his mind never at rest, and always devising new things, early in life the world's greatest inventor evinced a propensity for making good use of his money.

And always he had an earnest thought for the future. Saving money when you have it, in readiness for the day you need it, is a matter for serious consideration.

A savings account gives a feeling of comfort and security, and no matter how small, it will be a nucleus—a beginning—to which you will delight in making additions.

An indicator shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain. It has an automatic flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so the wick can be quickly cleaned.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, and can be unscrewed in an instant for reworking. Finished in Japan or nickel, strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

COUNCIL ROUTINE

Other action taken by the session included the consideration and recommendation of Chief of Police Barlow that the liquor license granted to Nicholas LaMont be revoked. This matter had been taken up at the last council meeting and was adopted with the amendment citing LaMont to appear before the council and show cause why such action should not be taken. Two of LaMont's witnesses were not found last night and the matter went over until Thursday evening.

Mr. Mulvey mixed in again when the proposition to annex Elmer Heights to the city came before the body. Because he believed the councilmen should investigate more thoroughly the proposed addition, the matter was put over for one week.

Upon the recommendation of the board of public works that the city of Strange & McGuire for $50.91 be not allowed, the matter was handed over to the finance committee.

The committee on public works was authorized to negotiate with Max Chardon for a piece of ground belonging to the city, at Tenth South and Eleventh East streets, which Chardon desires to purchase.

The Co-operative Investment company presented a claim for $305.25 for damages alleged to have been incurred by property owners in lot 2, block 161, plat D, because of the improper laying of water mains. This went to the committee on claims.

The complaint of R. M. Holt, regarding refuse piled near Warm Springs, which he declares to be a nuisance, was given to the sanitary committee.

DIES IN SOLDIERS' HOME.

Leonard C. Blaisdell, Who Tried to Collect Durkee Claims, Dead.

According to Associated Press dispatches received here Monday night, Leonard C. Blaisdell, who spent more than 35 years and a large sum of money trying to collect the famous Durkee claims from the government, died at the old soldiers' home at Danville, Ill. The bonds were first made famous when Charles S. Durkee, territorial governor of Utah, from Sept. 30, 1865 to December 21, 1869, died at Omaha, Neb., in 1872, while on his way to his native state of New Hampshire.

Blaisdell's wife was the only heir to the estate, and Blaisdell declared that there were no record at Washington that the bonds had been paid for. The Union Pacific company, on whom the bonds were drawn, asserted otherwise, and the legal fight began. In attempting to make the government pay for the bonds, Blaisdell not only lost all he had, but succeeded in impoverishing his relatives and some of his friends as well.

CONFIDENT OF ACQUITTAL.

Gladys Whitney Indites Letter to Chief of Police Barlow.

Gladys Whitney, the girl in the sensational diamond robbery of J. B. Diehl, the Denver salesman, seems to be confident of acquittal judging from a letter received by Chief of Police S. M. Barlow. The letter is dated Denver, December 8, 1910, and is as follows:

"Dear Sir—I understand that I am wanted in Salt Lake City on a charge, and today, 8th of December, I am going to face the charges that are made against me. I am giving myself up to chief of police here and will go back to Salt Lake City I am still wanted, without any process of the law whatever. Respectfully, Gladys Whitney."

The girl was arrested by the Pinkertons in Memphis and is now on her way back to Salt Lake in company with Deputy Sheriff Carlson.

HIS HONOR MUCH UPSET.

Justice Bishop Has an Unpleasant Encounter With a Cow.

While Justice of the Peace F. M. Bishop of Eleventh South may be a good cattle roper, he tackled a cow yesterday that was his equal in every respect. Mr.

Bishop went into his pasture to get his cow, which he succeeded in doing. The cow then started off through the field with Mr. Bishop dragging behind her. After a run of two or three blocks, Mr. Bishop succeeded in winding the rope around a tree. The cow, however, did not to be outdone also wound the rope around the tree four more times, and in so doing bound Mr. Bishop to the tree, after which she made several lunges at him but did not do any damage. As a result of the escapade Mr. Bishop is laid up in bed with a lame back and a bad cold.

SALT LAKER SHOT IN BOISE.

A Boise dispatch contains news of the shooting of Edward Smith, a Salt Lake stone cutter, early Sunday morning, in front of the Oxyhee hotel in the Idaho capital. Smith told the Boise police that he was under the influence of liquor at the time of the shooting and that he did not know the circumstances, but believed he was held up. The pistol shot was heard by people in the neighborhood of the hotel. The man was taken to St. Luke's hospital. The bullet entered the leg, and while painful, the wound is not dangerous.

CAUGHT WHILE BURGLING.

William Lugwell Arrested as He Was Moving About in Saloon.

William Lugwell, aged 28, was caught in the act of burglarizing the Log Cabin saloon, 48 east Second street, early this morning. While making his round Night-Watchman White noticed a shadow moving in the saloon and pointing his revolver at the dark form in a corner he called for assistance. Sergeant Roberts and Policeman Egbert rushed to the back of the place and crawled in a window through the bar room. As they grabbed him he was trying to hide some chips which he had taken. Lugwell is regarded as a bad character by the police and about five days ago he had been given a day in jail for carrying a dangerous weapon with burglary. Lugwell badly damaged a slot machine from which he secured several checks and 2 cents in cash.

FIRE IN GROCERY STORE.

Loss of $1,200 Caused by Burning Cigar in Desk.

A fire in the grocery store of J. C. Meyer on the corner of Fourth East and Eleventh South streets early this morning caused a loss of about $1,200. A cigar shut up in a desk set a number of papers and boxes on fire. These smoldered without breaking into a blaze the greater part of the night, generating a great deal of heat which caused most of the damage to the stock. When the department arrived the fire was extinguished with a garden hose.

The alarm came over the telephone and the location was given at Fourth South and Eleventh East, and a company from headquarters under Asst. Chief Fitzgerald was sent to the scene. On confirming the call, the fire operator found that the location was Eleventh South and Fourth East, so a company from station No. 4, under Chief Gore, was hurried to this location. The fire was extinguished and the smoke cleared out a few minutes after the arrival.
